• Project title	Age of stupid
• Programme	Erasmus+ KA1 Youth Exchange
• Topic	Our project reflects one of our biggest problem: the huge increasing and the environmental degradation caused by the huge wastefulness. Essential that the youngsters can learn to appreciate and to love the nature, and they have to understand the environmental consequences of our lifestyle. If we see that there is something wrong, and yet, we don't do anything about it, then we can say we live in the age of stupid. We should get to the age of wisdom, when we know the real problem, we understand the solution and we are capable of acting. Our purpose to achieve that the youngsters want to make a change, they take action, feel a real desire to take part in their environment, and its attitude. For this they have to discover with non-formal methods that the consequences of our lifestyle can lead to disasters. They have to learn to analyze realistically, that they can get from the responsibility of the states and the huge companies to a person's responsibility in this field. Thus they can learn to take responsibility (their own). They will understand what can they do personally, what can do a local government, and what can do a government. In this project we also will focus on the cultural diversity and the intercultural dialogue too, because here will meet 10 really different culture from the Caucasus to the Atlantic Ocean. This not serve only the youngsters' cultural learning, but also the recognition of the fact that the climate change, the environmental problems and the global threats have a strong effect on every culture, and we also have to find the solution with the help of cross-cultural cooperation.)
